

THANKSGIVING
BY F. L. BRITTAIN

America!

Staggering under the weight of its dead, Europe is wrapped in a mantle sable.

with the fruits of just endeavor and busy with the work of the harvest, with building and with beautifying.

What a land to be thankful for—what opportunities are ours—safety, peace, plenty. We are thankful for the many men whom we have placed at the head of our affairs—we are proud that we possess others as fit and as fine, who will go on with leadership when they are done.

Surely 'tis a land of sunshine and song—a living example to the warring world of to-day and a guiding star for future generations. With wealth untold and power unguessed, we hold true to a high purpose and a noble plan.

We rejoice in this day—the world is thankful that it can turn to us in full knowledge that we fear not to do right and to accord justice to all peoples. Let us keep spotless the rich robes of our inheritance—let every Thanksgiving day of future years still find America the beacon light of liberty, enlightenment and opportunity.

Barre nineros, members of the celebrated Morgan Hunting club, were off to-day for their annual drive on the woods of Essex county. The party left the city over the Montpelier & Wells River railroad soon after noon, expecting to be in their camp at Maidstone by nightfall. Among those who made the trip to-day were: A. P. Abbott and son, Leon R. Abbott, Mark Cutler, James Mackay, George Bond and E. A. Prindle. E. A. Drown and H. F. Cutler will join the hunters Friday and Fred Hollins of Boston, Mass., is expected to qualify in the hunting finale. The men expect to remain in camp until Dec. 1.

Nothing of a departure from the time honored ways of observing Thanksgiving are noted in plans about town for the holiday to-morrow. Religious aspects of the day will receive consideration in most of the city churches. Evangelical church societies are to unite at the Heddington Methodist church this evening in a union service of thanksgiving with Rev. George H. Holt of the First Baptist church as the preacher. To-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, Rev. P. M. McKenna will celebrate a thanksgiving mass in St. Monica's church, and at the Church of the Good Shepherd the pastor, Rev. W. J. M. Beattie, will be in charge of services at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Business of all kinds being practically at a standstill, there will be comings and goings all out of reckoning, so peculiarly suited is the Thanksgiving season to the friendly exchange of visits. Many of the granite manufacturers will close their plants to-night for the remainder of the week, although the agreement only calls for a single holiday at Thanksgiving. Retail stores will be closed and the postoffice will be open at holiday hours. Banks will not be doing business to-morrow nor will a number of the local newspapers.

Notice, C. L. U. Delegates.

A regular meeting of Central Labor union of Barre and vicinity will be held in carpenters' hall Friday evening, Nov. 26, at 7:30. Election of officers and rollcall will be in order and section 3, article 2, of the constitution will be enforced. S. L. Card, secretary.

"Stop Thief."

For laughing purposes only, is the way the Urban Stock Co., announces their production of Carlyle Moore's New York Gaiety theatre success, "Stop Thief," which will be produced by them Thursday, Thanksgiving night, and as a play constructed for the sole purpose of exercising that particularly healthful exercise—laughter—it is certainly fulfilling its mission. "Stop Thief" is sure to make you laugh in spite of yourself. Its unusual situations and brilliant lines fairly bristle with wit and repartee, while the complications which are thrown around the characters in the play and the endeavors to trap the crooks who are operating in a household obsessed with kleptomaniacal tendencies, which furnish irresistible fun through the three acts in which the play has been written. "Stop Thief" moves at such a fast pace that its humor might be likened to that of a whirlwind-yeet-withal, it is claimed that "Stop Thief" will start you giggling as soon as the curtain rises on the first act, and from that time on, you will be apologizing to your seat mate for your hilarious behavior. Tie the can to troubles and see "Stop Thief" at the opera house, Thursday, Thanksgiving night.—adv.
